

جمهوری خواهان ملی ایران
National Republicans of Iran

“Statement of the National Republicans of Iran”-Identity

We are a group of Iranian national republicans living in various countries who, drawing on the political and practical experiences of past decades and believing in the necessity of forming a new, non-ideological line of thought grounded in the realities of today’s Iranian society, have embarked on the path of creating a new and modern political orientation.

Accordingly, we believe the time has come to establish a new political organization with an innovative name, identity, and function—an organization whose foundation rests on the following principles:

- Our authenticity
- Our mission
- Our goals

We emphasize that in order to have real impact and to become part of the solution, it is essential for us to possess an independent, organized and accountable identity based on transparency.

Today, at a time when the Islamic Republic is at its weakest, discredited, and internally and internationally isolated more than ever, the need for the formation of a modern and effective republican force—necessary not only for today’s struggles but also for the future of an Iran without the Islamic Republic—is clearly felt.

On this basis, we have launched this initiative as a practical and proactive step toward a political organization. Our first action is the holding of an official seminar, in which we will:

- clearly and unambiguously declare the framework of our goals and principles,
- enter into a serious, responsible dialogue with society,
- respond transparently to criticisms, questions, and viewpoints of our audience.

Iran stands at a decisive moment. Our historical responsibility requires us to strengthen the voice of the people for freedom, justice, and democracy, and to play our role in the transition toward a new, people-centered order. In this regard, we declare that despite differences in backgrounds and viewpoints, we are united in supporting Mr. Reza Pahlavi for the transitional period away from the Islamic Republic, and we recognize him as the leader of the transition toward a democratic system.

Secretariat
National Republicans of Iran